

WRESTLE 4 RELIEF IV

D'Angelo Foundation
Making a Difference for Families in Need

HOLLAND, PA

The Council Rock South Wrestling Booster Club is again joining forces with Team Apache Wrestling Club, PAWF (Pennsylvania Amateur Wrestling Federation) and the Council Rock community to proudly present WRESTLE 4 RELIEF IV on Saturday, October 11th. This charity fundraiser will take place at Council Rock South High School in Holland, PA. We are happy to announce that the charity for 2008 will be the D'Angelo Foundation. The Foundation strives to serve the families in our local community during their time of need. We hope to create a forum for expanding the difference we can make in each other's lives. The D'Angelo Foundation was created in response to a family in need of financial help. The idea for the foundation was to set up a place for online credit card donations, and since has grown into other ways of helping people such as with medical benefits. Our mission is to create an easier way for people in need to connect with people who are in a position to help. Currently, the foundation is raising money for three families and our target will be the Czapor Family. The Czapor family resides in the Richboro area in Bucks County. John and Stephani have three awesome boys. Their oldest, Chad, has been diagnosed with a brain tumor. Chad is currently finishing his senior year at Council Rock South High School. He is an awesome kid and an inspiration to us all. We all know Chad for rooting his brothers on at a wrestling tournament or helping his dad coach soccer teams. Stephani and John are searching endlessly to find a doctor to operate on Chad. It is a delicate operation. They found a surgeon in New York who specializes in this type of brain tumor, but unfortunately, their insurance will not pay for the surgery. Once again, the D'Angelo Foundation is calling on this extraordinary community to reach out and help the Czapor family. Time and time again people have taken a stand for these families and they have shown what it means to be giving, compassionate, and united. Let us do the same for Chad and the Czapor family. All proceeds from W4R IV will go directly to this foundation. We will be raffling off items in an effort to raise money for this great cause. Concessions will also be available. Our inaugural "Wrestle 4 Relief" event in October of 2005 was a huge success and raised $5600 for the Red Cross in support of the Hurricane Katrina relief effort. We followed that up in 2006 with "Wrestle 4 Relief II" and donated over $4500 to Alex's Lemonade Stand Foundation to help fight childhood cancer. Last year $3600 was raised for Autism Awareness and the NeighborHeart Program, bringing our grand total to $13,700 in just 3 short years. YOU are making a difference. "I know that this may sound like a cliché, but this wrestling community is indeed a family! This community transcends sports and competition. The true goodness of people and all that is right with the sport of wrestling and these kids has been on display during our Wrestle for Relief events as hundreds of wrestlers, coaches, parents and fans competed and donated their time and effort, all in the name of charity," said Brad Silimperi, Club Director of Team Apache and Head Wrestling Coach at Council Rock South High School. "I can tell you that the wrestling community is one that I am proud to be a part of." Coach Silimperi continues "We are extremely excited about WRESTLE 4 RELIEF IV and having a great charity like the D'Angelo Foundation being a part of the event."
